THE CANTONMENT

By H. M. L.

While the newspapers of Marysville were first with an un-official story to the effect that the 70,000 acre cantonment lying in Yuba and Nevada counties was about to be constructed, official confirmation of this big project came yesterday in a telegram to the editor of this newspaper from Harry L. Englebright, our congressman, reading as follows:

"The War Department today authorized construction of the Yuba-Nevada counties cantonment, which will cost $30,000,000. Cantonment will be triangular and will provide for 31,000 men. Bids will be advertised tomorrow for construction and opened March 4th. Col. Robert Hunter. of the Western Engineering Corps and a member of the California Debris Commission, will be in charge. I have assured the War Department that Nevada County will cooperate with them in every possible way in this important work of national defense."

A trip through the cantonment area made yesterday by this writer was in many respects an eye-opener. There are two ways of reaching the area, both upon good highways. One is to leave the Marysville road about eight miles below Grass Valley, where the latter turns at right angle. A sign post directs the traveler to Wheatland. This road leads straight ahead and passes through the famous Barnegatt ranch, thence through Spenceville and finally to Wheatland. It traverses the cantonment area east to west.

The other road leaves the Marysville highway at the Smartville junction with the new stretch of highway. and is somewhat shorter. The two roads form a loop. Motorists can take one and come home by way of the other.

At Wheatland, the owner of a large hardware store there still expressed some doubt regarding whether or not the cantonment would be established.

"The farmers in this area," he said, "are sore. They are up in the air. They do not know whether to plant their crops or not. They do not know whether to keep their breeding stock or sell everything. The War Department has not yet given the slightest indication of buying them out. Yet they constantly see surveyors and engineers going about their business over this country, apparently getting things ready to take over.

"I was told that a railroad contractor was here last week and that he expected to start Monday with construction work, building a line from Wheatland to the site of the cantonment buildings. Well, no dirt flew. There has been no visible start made. I propose to erect a trailer camp near the cantonment boundaries on some land I own there. But I am not going to move until I know for sure that there will be a cantonment."

On returning home to Nevada City, the telegram from Englebright was waiting, so it may now be supposed that a new trailer camp will soon be abuilding.

The site of the cantonment buildings it was learned is to be at Erle in the Elizabeth school district of Yuba county. It lies about six miles northeast of Wheatland. Arrived at the site, we found a two story club house and long line of cars drawn up in the yard, and a bridge party in full swing inside. Across the road is the Elizabeth school house, neat. white painted, with the Stars and Stripes flying from its flag pole.

Knocking at the door of a farm house adjoining the school yard, a white cat first appeared, then the farmers' lady. She was a bit suspicious. Apparently she thought this visitor was just another of those "government four flushers" as she called them. Her doubts vanished by the proper credentials of a news hound, she released her long standing peeve. She said:

"Yes, This is the site of the cantonment, alright, if there is ever going to be a cantonment. We hear a lot of things about it, but we see no cash on the line. Has anybody been approached to sell to the government? Just one man. Mr. Galligan has optioned his 160 acres to the government for $20. It was mere jawbone. There was no cash on the line.

"Down in Wheatland they are asking $35 rent for dirty little shacks with rats in 'em. But they are still asking. Nobody has rented anything. But maybe that means we are going to have a cantonment.

"These government men coming through here seem to think we ought to be patriotic and just give our homes away. We are willing to sell at a fair price. People around here are out of debt and don't owe a thing, and they have worked hard to get that way. They are all up in the air. They don't know whether to fish or cut bait.

"If the cantonment is built, it is certainly going to be a big place. They have surveyed places for buildings that with warehouses and parade grounds and all, will cover a site 6 miles long by three miles wide with the Elizabeth school house about in the center of it."

Examination of the traffic signs indicated that Marysville was 12 miles away, Grass Valley 24 miles distant, and Nevada City 28 miles from the center of the cantonment building site.

A bus line from Nevada City through Grass Valley to the center of the cantonment building site ought to do a good business, according to H. F. Sofge, secretary of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce. In fact the chamber is much interested just now in securing bus service. Very little road work is necessary to insure a fairly speedy road all the way. The time between Nevada City and the Elizabeth school, is just a little less than an hour at 35 miles an hour.

In a very short time, it is expected that 5,000 workmen will be busy on construction work. These men, many of them with their families, must have a place to live. It is believed a great many would prefer to live in Nevada City if bus lines are provided and homes can be found for them. After the construction job is done, soldiers will be moving in. The cantonment is expected to be ready for accupancy about October 1.

Schools Here Establish First Aid Courses

Members of the Nevada City Red Cross Chapter held a meeting in the city hall here yesterday afternoon. Chairman Carroll Coughlan presided.

The Red Cross members heard reports from Mrs. Isabel Hefelfinger, school nurse, H. E. Kjorlie and Ralph Smith that first aid training classes at the elementary and high schools are meeting with success.

The chapter agreed to purchase Red Cross arm bands for the first aid trainees. At the high school Kjorlie was authorized to have 12 stretchers constructed by the Nevada City High School shop students. The Red Cross will furnish the materials.

Advanced first aid training courses are to be started soon. First aid teams have been organized at both elementary and high schools. Miss Laura Loucks, rural health supervisor, was authorized to conduct a standard home nursing course in Truckee for interested residents of that community.

The Red Cross war relief expenses are great. The national chapter has found it necessary to again appeal for funds. Carroll Coughlan, Nevada City Chapter chairman, has received word the additional amount expected from Nevada City is $600. Part of that amount has already been raised, representing the money oversubscribed in the original $2,000 quota drive.

But between $300 and $400 more is needed from Nevada City The local Red Cross hopes to have that amount subscribed through voluntary donations left at the newspaper offices in this city. Truckee has been pledged to raise $100.

WIFE BEATING CHARGE JAILS ANOTHER MAN

Archie Luthey, Lava Cap miner, last night became the second Nevada County man to land in the county jail here on wife beating charges.

Luthey was arrested by Undersheriff William D. Woods and Deputy Sheriff Willard O'Hara. He is charged with battery.

A few days ago Paul Meyers was arrested on a similar charge. Meyers will appear before Justice of the Peace Charles Morehouse in Grass Valley for sentencing.

DEFENSE COUNCIL MEETS TONIGHT

The Nevada City Defense Council will meet tonight in the City Hall here.

It was announced the air raid wardens who had their photographs taken last Sunday can receive their identification cards at tonight's meeting. The cards will contain their photos and fingerprints. Later the air raid wardens will be given arm bands to designate their authority.

RETURNS FROM HAPPY CAMP

Dennis Coughlan, Jr., resigned his job at the Gray Eagle Mine near Happy Camp, Siskiyou County, and has returned to Nevada City. Coughlan was one of the Murchie miners transferred to the Gray Eagle following the shutdown of the Nevada City gold producer.

CALIFORNIA TO REGISTER 600,000 MEN FEB. 14-16

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 12.—An estimated 600,000 California men will be obliged to register at one of the 3,000 registration places during the three day Selective Service registration period February 14, 15, 16.

This was announced today by Brig. Gen. Joseph O. Donovan, state director of selective service, in a last minute warning to all registrants within the specified age group to arrange their affairs so that their sign up may be effected within the three day period and without fail.

Brig. Gen. Jos. O. Donovan, Adjutant General for California, State Director of Selective Service.

The director simplified obligations of a registrant and registration procedure as follows:

All men between 20-44 years of age, those born on or before February 17, 1897 and on or before December 31, 1921, and who have not prviously registered must do so with in the prescribed three day R-Period.

If through uuavoidable circumstances a man cannot register on any one of these days, he must do so as soon thereafter as possible.

Men away from their home city at the time of registration must register wherever they may be. Their papers will then be forwarded to their regular local board.

Registration places will be open from 7 a. m. till 9 p. m. starting Saturday morning, February 14, through Sunday and until 9 p. m. Monday night, February 16.

Cork Oak Is Gift To Camp Fire Girls

Fifty cork oaks were received for the Oakland Camp Fire Girls of Camp Celio at Lake Vera from the W. E. Davis forestry service. These trees when mature produce cork similar to that imported from Spain. Near Placerville there is a cork oak tree, planted about 75 years ago, the bark of which is now three inches thick.

DOUG FARMER OFF TO PANAMA

Douglas Farmer of Boulder Street left Sacramento yesterday morning for Brownsville, Texas. From there he will go by plane to Panama Canal, where he will assume a position on a government defense project.

Farmer will probably arrive in Panama Sunday morning. Harold Deeter of Nevada City is employed as a safety engineer on the Panama project. Other Nevada Countyans are employed there.

SELECTIVE SERVICE GROUP LEAVES

A large number of relatives and friends were at the courthouse Tuesday afternoon to bid farewell to a group of Nevada Countyans who left for military service.

Gifts were presented to the departing selectees by Oustomah Lodge of Odd Fellows.

Those who departed included: Russell Barrett Speed, James Curtiss, Bud Lee Russell, Emmett Moore Costello, James William Brown, Kenneth Neil Adams, Tony Francis Rom and Karl Kendall Kielhofer.

60 ALIENS REGISTER

The registration of enemy aliens conducted here by the postoffice closed Monday night. Postmaster Betty Martin West reported 60 alien Germans and Italians registered here. There were no Japanese here to register.

Sacramento Visitors Tuesday—

Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Osborne were visitors in Sacramento on Tuesday.

SKULLS OF MAN AND WOMAN FOUND NEAR WASHINGTON

The discovery of two skulls, supposedly of a man and a woman, near Washington Tuesday afternoon has given Nevada County authorities a mystery to solve.

The skulls were found by Clyde M. Cole about ten feet from the road, on which he was working. He reported the discovery to Coroner A. M. Holmes and Sheriff Tobiassen.

It is the belief of Coroner Holmes that the skulls had ben placed in the spot where they were found and had been there for years. No other bones were found in the vicinity.

Caught in the Riffles

"Why don't you write something in the paper about the condition of the streets?" asks a local businessman, pointing at the debris-littered gutters on Broad Street, very noticeable since the city council saw fit to abolish Tom White's $70 per month position as street cleaner.

Just how much will the army camp at Erle benefit Nevada City and Grass Valley?

That is the question uppermost in the minds of the residents of the two communities.

Our belief is that it is bound to help some but not as much as during peace time.

In the first place, soldiers will not have leisure time now that this country is at war. Nevada City and Grass Valley had counted on benefitting from the huge flow of automobile travel through the two cities, relatives and friends visiting soldiers at the camp ,etc. But because of tire rationing and war time restrictions on visiting, that no longer can be assured.

But, there is no doubt some of the army officers will wish to establish their families either in Nevada City or Grass Valley, where climatic conditions are much better than in the thermal belt where the camp will be located.

It is the general belief that the officers when on leave will head for Sacramento or Marysville but when the summer heat beats down upon them the cool evenings in this area, we believe, will be much more enticing than the white lights of the larger cities.

According to interested citizens who have visited the cantonment site recently, Nevada county will have to do something about roads tributary to the camp from Nevada City if local business expects to profit from the construction period.

Maurice Packer of the Nevada City Bottle Shop is branching out. He has purchased Sierra Distributing Company in Grass Valley. He is going to establish a bottle shop in the store formerly occupied by Money Back Art's on Auburn and Main Street there. Mrs. Packer, according to reports, will operate the Nevada City store while Maurice handles the Grass Valley shop.

Congratulations to John O'Neill, who this coming Sunday will round out 20 years of service as manager of the Nevada City office of The Morning Union.

Nevada Ciytans will miss the Ernest L. Baxter family. The Baxters leave soon for the bay, where Baxter has been promoted to the Regional Office of the United States Forest Service. Baxter was assistant supervisor of the Tahoe National Forest for the past several years.

Recently Baxter went to San Francisco to rent a house. No houses were available for rent so he had to purchase one.

We don't like to be too inquisitive, but we wonder why Dr. Ivey is so set on reducing the police force here. Is it simply his desire to relieve some of the pressure on the taxpayers, or something else? While in the wondering mood, why does the courthouse clock always say 10:20?

Arlene Adren, 4, awoke at 3 a. m. Saturday screaming:

"Mommy! Daddy! There's a mouse in my bed!"

And sure enough, when mamma investigated, there was a mouse in between the bed covers. The excitement was too much for other Arden children and all of them had to sleep the remainder of the night with mamma and papa.

We can't seem to keep the cantonment out of our mind. But after all, why should we? The army camp may be a life saver to Nevada City and Grass Valley during the depressing war years.

An expected 5,000 men will be needed for the construction of 1200 camp buildings. The influx of workers will overflow Marysville, Wheatland, Lincoln, the nearest towns and Grass Valley and Nevada City should get a good share of the overflow.

What city councilman was overheard on Broad Street, declaring to the world at large:

"I'll never run again!"

BRAVE NEW WORLD

Will America lead the way in rebuilding a new world of prosperous peoples from this war's wreckage when peace returns — or is the world headed inevitably for a wasting depression? Pessimists, citing the first World War, with its international bankruptcy and depression, predict that this war will plunge victor nations and vanquished nations alike into a veritable economic Dark Age.

Yet many sound observers are optimistic. Henry Ford has predicted a post-war era of unprecedented prosperity. And while recognizing that "no man can make predictions with any certainty nowadays," James Rolph gave reasons which will interest all Californians, for a similarly optimistic view in an informal discussion with California business leaders the other day. "When this war ends," he pointed out, "there will be a tremendous world-wide shortage of goods destroyed and of consumer goods whose production has been stopped or curtailed.

The pressing need for housing, furniture, cars, tires, radios and countless other articles should cushion the immediate shock of the swingover of industry from war to peacetime production. And in the long view, the world may be ready for an international application of the American system of free enterprise—a fair play policy of giving all nations equal access to a fair share of raw materials. And that might bring true global prosperity to mankind at last.

"California is in the world's luckiest geographical spot. Peace in the Far East will open wide to American production the buying power of Chinese, Hindus, Koreans, Siamese, Burmese and other peoples comprising half the world's population. As a producer, and as the nation's maritime gateway to the Orient, California stands to profit and to develop beyond her dreams. I don't think this war can stop America's forward sweep. And California will head the vanguard!"

It does seem reasonable to hope that the pioneering genius of the builders of California and all America shall fashion a brave new world of achievement on the wreckage of the old.

CHERISH THOSE FALSE TEETH

To those who chew their vittles with artificial dentures, we pass on a warning: Priorities have hit mercury, which is used for coloring dental rubber to make it look like gums. Dentists say that without mercury there'd be no way of telling what color any piece of dental rubber might turn out after it was baked—maybe something like a California sunset, or a realist painting, or the hue of an inner tube. Probably the shortage won't become so acute as to shut out the dentists—but the prudent store-teeth eater will be doubly careful against sneezing his plates over a cliff or knocking them off the bathroom window sill. Remember, that priorities board has teeth in it. Better hang onto yours!

TEN MILLION VALENTINES

Next Saturday, February 14th, is St. Valentine's Day.

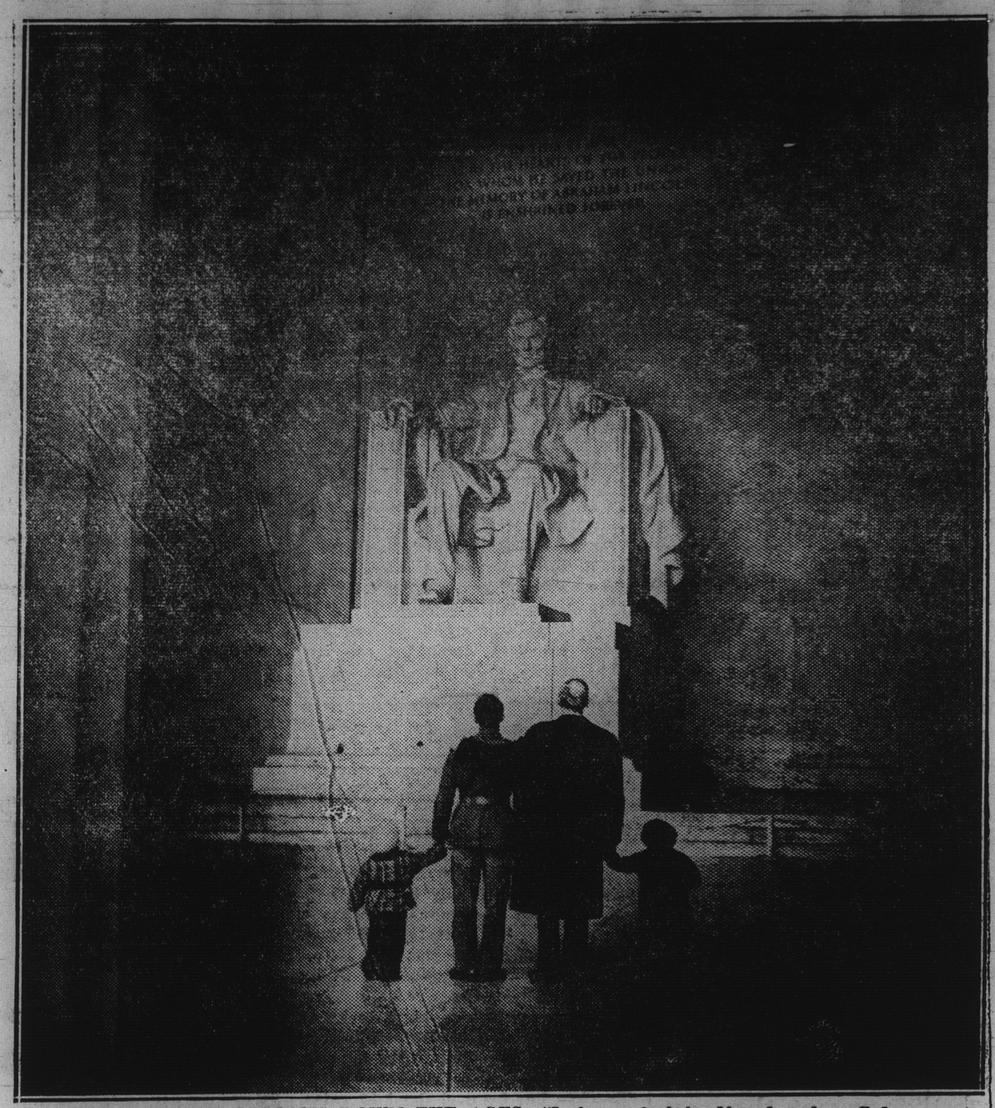
Next Saturday is also the first of three days in which millions of Americans are to register under the new draft law.

And so by nightfall on St. Valentine's Day there will be enough Valentines to Freedom to bury the Statue of Liberty up to her ears—each the signed pledge of an American to defend his nation with his life.

Some pledges will be signed by boys of 20 —proud to tell the world they are men who can fight America's enemies face to face.

And some will be signed by men of 44, men running a bit to waistline budges and baldness and gray around the temples—but belligerently positive they can clean up anything the Axis can send at them on the sea, in the air or on wheels.

By nightfall Monday the pledges will all be in—sworn fealty of the mightiest host of fighting men in history; ten million valentines to the spirit of the lady who holds aloft the lamp of freedom for America and for men of good will in all the troubled world.



THE VOICE OF LINCOLN DOWN THE AGES—"I always feel inclined, when I happen to say anything to soldiers, to impress upon them the importance of success in this contest. It is not merely for today, but for all time to come, that we should perpetuate for our children's children that great and free government which we have enjoyed all our lives. . . . Still, let us not be over sanguine of a speedy, final triumph. Let us be quite sober. Let us diligently apply the means, never doubting that a just God, in His own good time, will give us the rightful result."

Over 50 Inches Rain At Downieville

The rainfall in the Downieville district of the Tahoe National Forest has already passed the 50 inch mark according to District Ranger Frank Delaney. The prospects of another wet winter looks favorable with only 9 inches of rainfall to go to make the seasonal normal for this portion of the forest. On this date, February 3rd 1940, we had a rainfall of 36.18 inches with a total of 81.55 for the season. A year ago this date 53.63 inches was recorded and the total for the year reached 89.85 inches. So, with an average total seasonal rainfall of just under 60 inches for this area it is beginning to look like three wet winters in succession for the headwaters of the North Yuba Drainage.

MRS. AMERICA MEETS THE WAR

You can keep on sipping your tea, and it will be cheaper than at any time since last October. During December and January tea prices rose so shartply that the government placed a limit on wholesale tea prices. These prices are the same as those charged by wholesalers the first of last October and are as much as twelve cents per pound lower than current prices. For instance, the mixmum price on common broken orange pekoe from Ceylon is fixed at 48 cents per pound; the price had risen to over 60 cents per pound. Similar reductions are being made on all types of pekoe from India, Ceylon and Java. At present there are large stocks of tea in this country, and imports are expected to be maintained.

The war is changing dress and stocking styles, and it's now getting down to shoes. This country's entire supply of goatskin, kid-skin and cabretta is imported. Half of our goat and kidskin comes from India alone, and most cabretta (skin from "hair" as distinguished from "wool" sheep) comes from South Africa and South America. These skins are used especially in women's shoes, gloves, and small leather goods. Although there is no present shortage, future supply is so uncertain that manufacturers have been asked to save skins by new methods and substitution.

Do you have an idle room or a guest room seldom used? If you are in a defense area, the government Homes Registration Office is definitely interested in that room. Branch offices are now operating in defense communities in 39 states and the District of Columbia and in California alone, offices have been set up in San Diego, Long Beach, Burbank, Inglewood, Pasadena, Santa Ana and Oakland. Each one compiles and keeps up to date an index of all types of vacant living accommodations and aids defense workers in renting rooms, apartments and houses.

Every week priorities take additional toll of long-familiar products. Eyelets for shoes, which annually require enough brass to make a million shell casings, must now be made from something else. Mattresses and studio couches are to be limited because of the growing military demands for domestic sisal and henequen fibres used for padding. Typewriters have just taken a cut, and ultimately the standard machines will be reduced 40 per cent and portables 80 per cent. From now on, no brush, paint, tooth, shaving, hair or scrub) can be made with more than 55 per cent of Chinese hog bristles—the rest will have to come from such substitutes as horsehair, nylon, ixite (fiber from the leaf of wild pineapple and various Mexican plants,) and badger hair. Wool carders who formerly used hog bristles may have to use wire.

When your rubbers or raincoats are wet, don't do the easiest thing and put them by the kitchen stove to dry. Now that galoshes are as valuable as oranges were in grandmother's day, you should follow the conservation advice of the experts: (1) Keep rubbers and raincoats away from direct heat (2) keep them in a closet away from strong light.

Sheets and pillow cases will be wearing new labels this spring. In line with the government's policy of making price control mean quality control, bed liners sold after March 2 must carry a label stating quality and construction. There will be four grades paralleling the maximum prices which have been set on the different types of cotton bed sheets, pillow cases, and sheeting. If she knows her labels Mrs. America can easily select linens of the weight and strength she wants, and know she is paying a fair price for the quality received. Sub-standards and seconds will be so marked and priced accordingly.

Don't toss away your old toothpaste, toiletry and shaving cream tubes. These small collapsible tubes, if made of tin, are about 98 per cent pure (ordinary tin cans sometimes are less than 2 per cent tin). If systematically salvaged, these little tubes will yield a considerable amount of valuable metal and a plan is now being worked out to have boxes in your corner drugstore where the tubes may be deposited. So keep them in a household collection, until your druggists's box is ready.

School Trustees Told Of Success Of Hot Lunch Program

The Nevada City Board of Education held its busiest meeting in months Monday night.

The school trustees declared Monday, February 23rd, to be a school holiday. Washington's Birthday falls on a Sunday.

District School Superintendent H. E. Kjorlie reported the Elementary School's hot lunch program is a success. Approximately 300 children are fed each noon at a cost of 8 cents per meal to the parents.

A plan to purchase a restaurant type gas range for the cooking of the hot lunches was discussed at the meeting. If the board does decide to buy the range, the present stove will be used at the high school for the home economics class.

The board granted a request of the Nevada City Antlers for the use of the high school gymnasium for a basketball game.

The trustees gratefully acknowledged reception of a check for $100 from the Nevada City Elementary Parent Teachers Association for the hot lunch program; $98.68 from the card party hot lunch benefit sponsored by the elementary school faculty. Previously, the Nevada City Women's Civic Club had donated $25 for the hot lunches and other individuals and organizations contributed to get the program started.

The trustees approved the use of the elementary school auditorium for a Red Cross training school, air raid wardens school, nutrition committee meetings, spring forum meetings.

Superintendent Kjorlie was delegated to attend the American Association of School Administrators convention in San Francisco commencing February 21st.

GEORGE DAY WILL BE GIVEN SENTENCE SAT.

Gerge Day, who was convicted by a superior court jury on a charge of failing to provide for a minor child, will be sentenced Saturday morning by Superior Judge George L. Jones.

At that time Probation Officer A. W. McGagin will give a report on Day's application for probation.

The jury which convicted Day, who was arrested in Plumas County and returned here to stand trial, deliberated only 20 minutes.

The jurors were:

Bert F. McBride, Howard M. Edwards, Perry R. Tisher, Catherine M. Clemo, Lee M. Day, Frank C. West, John K. Osborne, Violet Alcock, Lorraine A. Keast, Harry Davey, Vera Fontz and Richard Worth.

Funeral Rites For Rev. Arthur Pratt Set For Tomorrow

Many Nevada Cityans plan to attend the funeral services tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock in Grass Valley at the Methodist Church for Rev. Arthur L. Pratt, former Grass Valley minister, who died in North Sacramento Tuesday.

The rites will be under the direction of the Hooper-Weaver Mortuary. Burial will be in Petaluma.

Pratt, while serving as minister in Grass Valley for years, became well acquainted in Nevada City.

Rev. H. H. Buckner, former Nevada City Methodist Church minister, will assist in the funeral services.

PROBLEMS OF WAR'S END WILL BE DISCUSSED

With over half of our working population engaged in some kind of war occupation by the beginning of 1944; with 25,000,000 workers engaged in wartime production and only 23,000,000 in civilian pursuits; with 10,000,000 men in the armed services; with our factories and machinery geared to all out military production and months required to convert to normal production—with all these possibilities facing us at the conclusion of the war, what can we do now in the way of thinking and planning to meet those problems and conditions?

These are the questions which will be propounded by Frank Emery Cox, the director of the Business Forum meetings, when he faces his audience at the last meeting Friday, (tomorrow) night.

"There must be no slackening of pace," Stated Cox, "in the present program of action for a fast and satisfactory victory, in this struggle for the preservation of our plan of living. However, it should be possible for us to do some thinking and some constructive planning as well for the future. This war is not alone a war of military proportions; it is also a war of great economic implications The war will not cease when an armistice or a peace has been declared. The economic battle for the preservation of life for every one of us must continue after that phase of our struggle has been won. With our entire economic machinery geared to such high speed and specialized objectives of all-out war effort, we must plan ahead so that we can be successful in preserving for our use the system we are fighting now to prevent from being overthrown."

Facts and statistics will be presented for the consideration of the audience. It is suggested that the business men and women of the community make a special effort to bring their ideas up for discussion. The problems of small business concerns will be especially considered. Out of these discussions the worthwhile ideas will be sent on to the U. S. Department of Commerce for their consideration when they appear before the congressional committee soon to present the case of "small business" to this committee.

The meeting will be held Friday evening in the auditorium of the Elementary School starting at 7:30. The meetings have been made possible through the joint facilities of the Nevada City Evening High School and the California State Department of Education Business Bureau, as a part of a nation wide attempt to help all business people engaged in the field of distributing merchandise and service.

MORE ON CANTONMENT

Then more than ever is a bus line needed if Nevada county cities are to benefit. The families of officers will wish to find homes in the vicinity of the cantonment. Soldiers in training will wish to explore the country around in search of amusement, recreation and sports.

Every community within bus distance of the cantonment will benefit from this huge influx of a new population, more than fifty per cent greater than the population of Nevada county. It is up to the chambers of commerce to follow out vigorously the plans already made to see that communications are good, speedy and safe.

This cantonment will be the latest word in war department construction, triangular, meaning, the three coordinated branches: planes, tanks, artillery, and the ground forces to make all three effective.

Boss: "I suppose you know when quitting time is?"

Secretary: "Oh, yes, whenever any one knocks on the door."
